

---

Contents

|                                       |    |
|---------------------------------------|----|
| Acknowledgement . . . . .      | 7  |
| Introduction . . . . .         | 9  |
| Issues of philosophy . . . . . | 15 |

PART ONE - HISTORY

|  |    |
|--|----|
| 1. Ancient philosophy - Greece and Rome . . . . .           | 21 |
| 1.1. From Big Bang to Greece and the birth of philosophy . . . . . | 21 |
| 1.2. First philosophers . . . . .                                  | 24 |
| 1.3. The classical period and its great philosophers . . . . .     | 27 |
| 1.4. Socrates . . . . .  | 29 |
| 1.5. Socrates and a definition . . . . .                           | 31 |
| 1.6. Plato . . . . .   | 32 |
| 1.7. Aristotle . . . . .   | 38 |
| 1.8. Deductive logic . . . . .                                     | 44 |
| 1.9. Hedonism . . . . .  | 48 |
| 1.10. Epicurus . . . . .   | 48 |
| 1.11. The Cynics . . . . .   | 50 |
| 1.12. The Ancient Scepticism . . . . .                             | 51 |
| 1.13. Ancient Rome . . . . .                                       | 52 |
| 1.14. The Stoics . . . . .   | 53 |
| 2. Catholic Philosophy . . . . .                            | 57 |
| 2.1. Judaism and Christianity . . . . .                            | 57 |
| 2.2. Ancient Christianity . . . . .                                | 60 |
| 2.3. Augustine of Hippo . . . . .                                  | 62 |
| 2.4. Byzantium . . . . .   | 65 |
| 2.5. Islam . . . . .   | 66 |
| 2.6. The Medieval Europe . . . . .                                 | 68 |
| 2.7. Anselm and scholasticism . . . . .                            | 70 |
| 2.8. St. Thomas Aquinas . . . . .                                  | 70 |
| 2.9. The Autumn of the Middle Ages . . . . .                       | 78 |
| 2.10. The Middle Ages - Conclusion . . . . .                       | 79 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 3. Modern philosophy . . . . .   | 81  |
| 3.1. The Renaissance . . . . .  | 81  |
| 3.1.1. Political thought of the Renaissance . . . . .                                 | 84  |
| 3.1.2. Reformation, Protestantism, the Counter-Reformation. . . . .                   | 85  |
| 3.1.3. The Rise of Science: Copernicus, Bruno and Galileo . . . . .                   | 92  |
| 3.1.4. Bacon . . . . .  | 93  |
| 3.2. Methods for knowledge building. . . . .  | 94  |
| 3.3. The Age of Baroque - the 17th and 18th c. - and continental rationalism. . . . . | 96  |
| 3.3.1. Descartes . . . . .  | 100 |
| 3.3.2. Malebranche . . . . .  | 102 |
| 3.3.3. Pascal . . . . .   | 103 |
| 3.3.4. Spinoza . . . . .  | 105 |
| 3.3.5. Leibniz . . . . .  | 109 |
| 3.4. The Age of Enlightenment (the eighteenth century) . . . . .                      | 110 |
| 3.5. Epistemology and ontology of the Enlightenment . . . . .                         | 112 |
| 3.5.1. Locke - epistemology and ontology . . . . .                                    | 112 |
| 3.5.2. Berkeley - epistemology and ontology. . . . .                                  | 113 |
| 3.5.3. Hume - epistemology and ontology . . . . .                                     | 115 |
| 3.5.4. Kant - epistemology and ontology . . . . .                                     | 117 |
| 3.5.5. The relationship of mind and reality. . . . .                                  | 119 |
| 3.6. Ethics of the Enlightenment . . . . .  | 122 |
| 3.6.1. Hobbes - ethics. . . . .   | 124 |
| 3.6.2. Locke - ethics. . . . .  | 126 |
| 3.6.3. Mandeville . . . . .   | 130 |
| 3.6.4. Hume - ethics . . . . .  | 130 |
| 3.6.5. The Prisoner's Dilemma. . . . .  | 137 |
| 3.6.6. Smith . . . . .  | 142 |
| 3.6.7. Enlightenment in France . . . . .  | 148 |
| 3.6.8. Kant - ethics . . . . .  | 153 |
| 3.6.9. Bentham . . . . .  | 163 |
| 3.6.10. Malthus . . . . .   | 170 |
| 3.6.11. The Enlightenment revolution in morals . . . . .                              | 170 |
| 3.7. Romanticism . . . . .  | 172 |
| 3.7.1. Hegel . . . . .  | 173 |
| 3.7.2. Feuerbach. . . . .   | 174 |
| 3.8. The era of the bourgeoisie 1848-1914. . . . .                                    | 175 |
| 3.8.1. Marx. . . . .  | 179 |
| 3.8.2. Darwin and Spencer . . . . .   | 191 |
| 3.8.3. John Stuart Mill . . . . .   | 194 |
| 3.8.4. The Pessimists: Schopenhauer and Kierkegaard . . . . .                         | 202 |
| 3.8.5. Religions of the Far East. . . . .   | 205 |
| 3.8.6. Nietzsche . . . . .  | 207 |

|  |      |
|--|------|
| 3.9. Psychoanalysis . . . . .  | .212 |
| 3.9.1. Freud . . . . .   | .212 |
| 3.9.2. The development of psychoanalysis . . . . .                               | .217 |
| 3.10. Morality: deontology vs. consequentialism . . . . .                        | .219 |
| 3.11. The 20th century. The scientific method . . . . .                          | .224 |
| 3.11.1. Comte . . . . .  | .224 |
| 3.11.2. Scientism . . . . .  | .224 |
| 3.11.3. Austrian Philosophy, Early Wittgenstein and logical positivism . . . . . | .225 |
| 3.11.4. Popper and Critical Rationalism . . . . .                                | .227 |
| 3.11.5. Popper's followers . . . . .   | .232 |
| 3.11.6. Late Wittgenstein . . . . .  | .233 |
| 3.12. Existentialism . . . . .   | .235 |
| 3.12.1. Heidegger . . . . .  | .242 |
| 3.12.2. Sartre . . . . .   | .243 |
| 3.13. The world after the wars and the development of the USA . . . . .          | .246 |
| 3.14. The critics of capitalism . . . . .  | .250 |
| 3.14.1. Max Weber . . . . .  | .250 |
| 3.14.2. The Frankfurt School, Fromm and Marcuse . . . . .                        | .251 |
| 3.14.3. Liquid modernity . . . . .   | .257 |
| 3.15. Rawls and Nozick – American political philosophy . . . . .                 | .258 |
| 3.15. American pragmatism . . . . .  | .260 |

Part Two - Conclusions

|   |      |
|---|------|
| 1. Epistemology . . . . .  | .271 |
| 2. Ontology . . . . .  | .275 |
| 3. God . . . . .   | .277 |
| 4. Man and human nature . . . . .  | .280 |
| 5. Happiness and the good life . . . . .   | .283 |
| 5.1. The meaning of life . . . . .  | .285 |
| 6. Values and morality . . . . .   | .291 |
| 7. The state and economy . . . . .   | .295 |
| 7.1. Liberty . . . . .  | .296 |
| 7.2. Justice and ownership . . . . .  | .301 |
| 7.3. Government and democracy . . . . .   | .303 |
| 8. Looking into the future of western civilisation . . . . .                         | .309 |
| Appendix I. The role of philosophy in the age of science and globalization . . . . . | .323 |
| Appendix II. God's playground - Poland and its philosophy . . . . .                  | .329 |
| Appendix III. History of humanity in films . . . . .                                 | .344 |