

Contents

Acknowledgements / xv
Publisher's acknowledgements / xvii
About the authors / xix
Foreword / xxiii
Brief notes on the text / xxvii
How to use this book / xxix
Introduction / xxxi

Part 1	The business model / 1
1	Real business models / 3
	Why business models work / 3
	Creating and capturing value / 6
	Test in the real world / 8
	What makes a great business model? / 12
2	A brief history / 15
	Models of business / 16
	Simple business models / 17
	E-business model confusion / 18
	Business models in theory and practice / 20
	The Business Model Canvas arrives / 23
	The future of the business model / 24

3 No shortcuts / 27

The obstacles to designing great business models / 28

What business models are not / 34

4 What we know for sure / 40

The business model is here to stay / 41

Business models are not clearly tied to performance / 41

Innovative business models can win big / 42

Innovative business models are high risk / 43

Business models do not function in isolation / 44

A business model is only as good as its implementation / 45

Business models change / 46

Business model change is not easy / 46

Organisations can test and implement multiple business models / 48

New business models are impossible to predict in advance / 49

Part 2 Business model elements – the RTVN framework / 53*5 Making resources work for your business / 55

Business model resources / 56

Do you have SHaRP resources? / 59

Leveraging and building resources in business models / 65

- 6 Transactions in a business model / 71
 - Transactions connect the resources / 71
 - Internal transactions / 73
 - Boundary-spanning transactions / 76
 - External transactions / 79
 - Transactions frame value creation / 80
 - Designing transactions in business models / 82
- 7 Designing business models for value / 87
 - The role of design in great business models / 87
 - Recognising stakeholders / 89
 - Intangible value / 91
 - Creating and capturing value in business models / 93
 - Designing for value / 94
- 8 Narratives and business model storytelling / 102
 - Business model narratives connect the other elements / 103
 - A narrative has a plot / 104
 - Narratives create legitimacy / 105
 - Using narrative to change the environment / 107
 - Most organisations do not create a business model narrative / 108
 - Crafting a business model narrative / 109
 - Compelling business models align the narrative and the firm / 112

Part 3 The right business model at the right time / 117

9 RTVN for pre-venture opportunities / 119

It is all about the opportunity / 120

The RTVN business model design / 120

Separating the business model from the innovation / 126

Keeping it simple / 128

10 The Lean Canvas for start-ups / 130

A lean approach to entrepreneurship and business model design / 131

The Lean Canvas / 131

Building a Lean Canvas: the e-parking opportunity / 132

Testing assumptions / 145

11 The Business Model Canvas for growth / 147

The OBMC / 148

Resource dimension: key partners, key resources and key activities / 150

Transaction dimension: customer segments, channels and customer relationships / 155

Value dimension: value propositions, costs and revenues / 161

12 Beyond basic business models / 167

Going beyond basic business models / 167

Complex business models / 169

Parallel business models / 173

Connected business models / 174

Synergistic business models / 178

Part 4 Business model innovation / 185

13 The business model cycle / 187

The business model cycle / 188

Troubleshoot / 189

(Re)design / 191

Test / 194

(Re)deploy / 200

14 Business model change and innovation / 204

The difference between business model change and business model innovation / 205

The risks and rewards of business model innovation / 208

Drivers of business model innovation / 211

When business model innovation succeeds / 213

The two-stage business model innovation plan / 214

15 Sustainable business models / 221

Unpacking the 'sustainable business model' / 222

Measuring sustainable business models / 227

Ultimately sustainable business models incorporate time / 235

16 Back to business model basics / 238

Why business models matter / 238

A good idea is not enough / 239

Business models are not required to be 'nice' / 240

Business models are about more than business / 243

Back to business model basics: what to remember from this book / 244

References / 246

Index / 249