

Contents

The procedure of business cycle turning points identification based on hidden Markov models5
Michał Bernardelli

The Viterbi path of hidden Markov models in an analysis of business tendency surveys25
Michał Bernardelli, Monika Dędyś

Survey-based household inflation expectations – Are they valid? A multi-group confirmatory factor analysis approach49
Piotr Białowolski

Latent factor growth models for forecasting Polish GDP growth, inflation and unemployment using survey data69
Piotr Białowolski

Stochastic demands, fixed costs and time-varying Solow residual95
Maciej Dudek

Application of selected ideas from statistical overlapping samples theory to tendency surveys: Designed panel vs resulting overlapping samples127
Barbara Kowalczyk