

Contents

Preface	7
Contributors	10
 Introduction. Ways to Respond: Globalization and Regional Co-operation (Zlatko Šabič, Ana Bojinović Fenko, and Łukasz Fijałkowski)	 16
 EUROPE	 30
The Power of Membership: An Obstacle to the European Perspective of the Southeastern European Region (Zlatko Šabič)	 30
Introduction	30
Croatia	33
Greece and Turkey	37
Greece and Macedonia	39
Cyprus and Turkey	43
The Future of the POM in the Southeastern European Region	45
Conclusion	47
 The OSCE in the European Security Environment – Questioning the Compatibility of Goal and Structure (Ioana Cismas)	 49
Introduction	49
The Anecdote	49
The Question	49
Theoretical & Methodological Framework	50
Analytical Demarche	54
The Conceptual Pillars of the CSCE	54
The OSCE Construct	58
OSCE Core Concepts	59
The Goal of the OSCE	63
Financial Resources	64
Analysis of the Involvement of the CSCE/OSCE in Violent Conflicts, 1990–2005	65
Conflict Management Measures that Correspond to the Hard Security Dimension	66
Coercive Measures of a Military Nature	66
Coercive economic measures	67
Conflict Management Measures that Correspond to the Soft Security Realm	68
Concluding with Reform Patterns	70
The Minor Structural Reform Model	70
The Exploratory Model: Reform of the Goal	72

Minority Protection as a Joint European Regional Project
(Petra Rotér)	76
Introduction	76
Conference for Security and Co-operation in Europe: Laying the Foundations for an International Regime for the Protection of National Minorities	77
The Council of Europe: Legalization of Norms on Minority Protection	85
The European Union: Efforts to Implement Minority Protection – in Third States	90
Conclusion	94
 LATIN AMERICA	 96
Power, Institutions, and Domestic Politics: Explaining Implementation Problems in Regional Integration Agreements in the Americas
(Laura Gómez-Mera)	96
Introduction	96
Implementation, Compliance and the Impact of Regional Institutions	99
Implementation Gaps in Regional Integration Agreements	102
Explaining the Implementation Gap in LAC RIAs	106
Power Asymmetries and the Absence of Regional Leadership	107
The Weakness of Regional Institutions	110
The Role of Domestic Politics	115
Capacity Limitations	120
Conclusions	121
 Leadership and Energy Alternatives Within MERCOSUR
(Valeria Marina Valle)	123
Introduction	123
MERCOSUR: Institutions and Leadership	125
Energy Geopolitics: Fossil Fuels or Bio Fuels?	129
The Importance of Ethanol as an Energy Alternative for Brazil	133
Venezuelan Oil-based Energy Project	138
Conclusions	143
 AFRICA	 144
The Challenges of Economic Integration in SADC Region; A Critical Assessment of the SADC Trade Protocol
(Chippa Tjirera)	144
Introduction	144
What is Regional Integration?	145
Overview of the SADC Trade Protocol	147
The Implementation of the SADC Trade Protocol: The Challenges	150
Tariff Reductions	150
Sensitive Products and Sectors	151
Non-Tariff Measures	152
Rules of Origin	153

Supply-Side Constraints	154
Preferential Trade Arrangements among Members and Third Parties	155
Dependence on Trade Taxes	156
Challenges Economic Partnership Agreements (EPAs) Pose for SADC	158
Background	158
Signing of Interim Economic Partnership Agreement	160
Other Concerns by SADC EPA	162
Conclusion	164
SOUTHEAST ASIA	167
What Kind of Regionalism? The Ideas of Regional Co-operation in Southeast Asia
(Łukasz Fijałkowski)	167
Introduction	167
Regionalism and Regional Governance	168
Region of Southeast Asia and the Expansion of ASEAN	170
ASEAN and Reactionary Regionalism	173
Regionalism as Regional Governance: Regulatory Regionalism
and Participatory Regionalism	176
Regulatory Regionalism	177
Participatory Regionalism	179
Regional Dimensions of Security	184
Concluding Thoughts	188
The EU and ASEAN as Cornerstones of Global Governance and Security:
Comparison of Regional Integration Schemes
(Zbyněk Dubský and Vladimíra Knotková)	190
Introduction	190
Security Community	193
Integration Dynamics Towards Security Community	198
Conclusion	211
European Foreign Policy and the Asia-Europe Alliance: A Transregionalist Response
(Jenny Lind Elmaco)	214
Introduction	214
Theoretical and Historical Framework	218
The Region and Regionalism – Introductory Thoughts	218
Interregionalism	223
The European Union and Regionalism	226
ASEF: Asia Europe Alliance	229
Conclusion	233
PROMOTING REGIONS AND REGIONAL DISCOURSE	235
Regionalism around the Black and Caspian Seas
(Alexandros Petersen)	235

Incentives for a Western-oriented Sub-region	236
Regionalism	238
Sub-regionalism	242
Regionalism Around the Black Sea	245
Visions for a Black Sea Region in Practice	247
Conclusion	255
 Regionalism in the Mediterranean; Understanding Contemporary States' Region-building Efforts within the Structural Context of Historical Regional Legacy
(Ana Bojinović Fenko)	257
Introduction	257
Historical Construction of the Mediterranean	260
Mediterranean as a Regional Space	260
Mediterranean as a Regional Complex	262
Mediterranean as a Regional Society until the End of the Cold War	266
States' Influence in the Construction of the Mediterranean Regionness
After the Cold War	275
Period from 1989 to 1995	275
Period from 1995 to 2008	281
Conclusion	291
 The Commonwealth as a Pattern of Governance. Developing Relations Between Intergovernmental and Non-governmental Commonwealths
(Andrzej Polus)	294
Introduction	294
Emergence of the Modern Commonwealth	296
Relations Between the Non-governmental Sector and the Official Commonwealth During the Cold War	299
The Evolution of Relations Between the People's Commonwealth and Official Commonwealth in the Post-Cold War Era	302
Regional Dimension of the CSO's Preparation to the CHOGM	306
Some Problems and Prospects Associated with the Analysis of Civil Society Relations with the Official Commonwealth	308
Conclusions	310
 INDEX LIST	 313
BIBLIOGRAPHY	317