

CONTENTS

Elżbieta Mączyńska, Agata Adamska

Introduction	25
--------------------	----

Section I. INSOLVENCY AND BANKRUPTCIES OF COMPANIES – GLOBAL ASPECTS INCLUDING SELECTED INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCES	33
---	----

Elżbieta Mączyńska

Chapter 1. Functioning of enterprises and their bankruptcies in the context of a globally distorted balance	35
1.1. Globally distorted balance	35
1.2. Disfunctions of the financial sector	37
1.3. Timeliness of Veblen's theses – Theory of the Leisure Class	40
1.4. Systemic reasons for global crisis	42
1.5. Civilization of knowledge versus civilization of wisdom	45
1.6. Conclusions	50
Summary in Polish	52
Summary in English	52

Błażej Prusak

Chapter 2. Characteristics of the bankruptcy processes in the international context	55
2.1. Introduction	55
2.2. Measurement i and the trends of changes in bankruptcy proceedings at international level	56
2.2.1. Global insolvency index Euler Hermes	56
2.2.2. Global insolvency index D&B (Dun & Bradstreet)	58
2.3. Analysis of the bankruptcy proceedings in selected european countries	60
2.3.1. Insolvency procedures	64
2.3.2. The policy of second chance	67
2.4. Conclusions	69
Summary in Polish	70
Summary in English	70

Jan K. Solarz

Chapter 3. "Untouchability" of systemically important financial institutions	71
3.1. Introduction	71
3.2. Concept of systemically important financial institutions	74
3.3. Sanation techniques of systemically important financial institutions	76

3.4. The influence of the „Untouchables” on the erosion of financial discipline in the financial sector.	78
3.5. Prospects for regulations of the bankruptcies of systemically important financial institutions	80
Summary in Polish.....	82
Summary in English	82
Renata Karkowska
Chapter 4. “Contagion” effect as the factor of transmitting systemic risk	93
4.1. Introduction	83
4.2. Characteristics of the phenomenon of “contagion” – literature review.	84
4.3. Transmission of crisis and “contagion” effect	88
4.4. Characteristics of the “contagion” channels	90
4.5. The integration of financial markets as a factor conducting to the spread of crises	92
4.6. Conclusions.	93
Summary in Polish.....	94
Summary in English	94
Paweł Wieprzowski
Chapter 5. Contagion effect in financial sphere of economy – implications for Polish enterprises	97
5.1. Introduction	97
5.2. The determinants of “contagion” effect	98
5.3. “Contagion” effect on financial markets.....	100
5.4. “Contagion” effect in banking industry	103
5.5. Conclusions.....	107
Summary in Polish.....	108
Summary in English	109
Luigi Lai
Chapter 6. Spanish and Italian intervention measures for saving companies intrinsic value	111
Conclusions	120
Summary	120
Eva Tomášková
Chapter 7. Statistic data about insolvency in the Czech Republic.....	121
7.1. Introduction	121
7.2. Insolvency act in the Czech Republic.....	122
7.3. Development of insolvency.....	123
7.4. Detailed insolvency at companies.....	125
7.5. Personal entity insolvency	131

7.6. Conclusions.....	132
Summary	133

Section II. REASONS AND PREDICTION OF BANKRUPTCIES.....	135
---	-----

Katarzyna Boratyńska

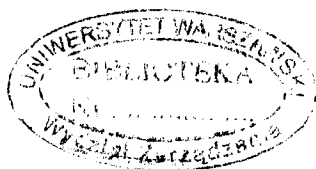

Chapter 8. Recession phase and reasons for bankruptcy of agribusiness enterprises and farms	137
8.1. Introduction	137
8.2. Life cycle of a company	139
8.3. Scale and reasons for bankruptcy of agribusiness enterprises	140
8.4. The concept of natural evolution and reasons for bankruptcy of farms	144
8.5. Conclusions.....	149
Summary in Polish.....	150
Summary in English	151

Tomasz Wyszynski

Chapter 9. Price wars and insolvencies.....	153
9.1. Introduction	153
9.2. Definition of a price war	154
9.3. Reasons of price war eruption	155
9.4. Consequences of price wars	158
9.5. Tactics for the price war	161
9.6. Conclusions.....	162
Summary	163
Summary in Polish.....	163

Waldemar Rogowski, Kamila Duleba

Chapter 10. Possibility of implementing bankruptcy prediction models into auditors' practice	165
10.1. Introduction	165
10.2. Research methodology.....	167
10.2.1. Characteristics of the population	168
10.2.2. The selection of models.....	168
10.2.3. Financial data	170
10.3. Research results	170
10.4. Analysis of results.....	174
10.5. Conclusions	177
Summary in Polish.....	178
Summary in English	179

Magdalena Ciszewska

Chapter 11. Predicting business failure with the use of discriminant analysis, subject to the assumptions concerning the distribution of the variables tested ..	181
11.1. Introduction	181
11.2. Discriminant analysis	182
11.2.1. Data set	183
11.2.2. Verification of normal distribution of variables	183
11.3. Application of discriminant analysis	184
11.3.1. Application of discriminant analysis or variables with normal distribution for the test of Kolmogorow-Smirnow	185
11.3.2. Application of discriminant analysis for variables with normal distribution for the test of Shapiro-Wilk	188
11.4. Conclusions	191
Summary in Polish	191
Summary in English	192

Małgorzata Tymoszuć

Chapter 12. Effectiveness of polish models predicting corporate bankruptcy and the passage of time – comparison of the most popular polish multiple discriminant analysis models with the one created by the author	193
Summary in Polish	209
Summary in English	210

Paweł Antonowicz

Chapter 13. Assumptions of discriminant analysis in the construction of new multi-dimensional models to prediction of bankruptcy of enterprises	211
13.1. Introduction	211
13.2. Methodological assumptions of discriminant analysis	212
13.3. The practical dilemmas of selecting an appropriate discriminant model	214
13.4. The practical dilemmas of calculation of discriminant models	217
13.5. The practical dilemmas of interpretation of discriminant models	221
13.6. Conclusions – recommendations for creating new discriminant models adjusted to reasearch of companies operating in Poland	223
Summary in Polish	223
Summary in English	228
Section III. ENTERPRISE RISK MANAGEMENT	229

Edyta Bochenek

Chapter 14. Credit rating in bankruptcy risk management of a company	231
14.1. Introduction	231
14.2. The risk of bankruptcy as a particular kind of risk in the company's operations	232

14.3. Risk management in the enterprise bankruptcy	235
14.4. Credit rating and its meaning for the company in terms of risk of bankruptcy	237
14.4.1. The nature and classification of credit rating	237
14.4.2. Model of creating of credit ratingu in polish banking system on the example of selected bank	240
14.4.3. The use of credit ratings in the process of bankruptcy risk management of an enterprise	242
14.5. Conclusions	245
Summary in Polish	245
Summary in English	246

Jacek Nowak

Chapter 15. Company financing perspective in the context of bankruptcy risk analysis	247
15.1. Introduction	247
15.2. Credit risk	248
15.3. Prudential regulations	250
15.4. Support for non-performing loans portfolio	252
15.5. Conclusions	256
Summary	257
Summary in Polish	257

Lech Kurkliński

Chapter 16. Bankruptcy risk management in projects related to renewable energy production	259
16.1. Introduction	259
16.2. Peculiarities and the main barriers to development renewable energy projects	261
16.3. Risk identification	266
16.4. Risk assessment	269
16.5. Risk reduction tools	272
16.6. Conclusions	274
Summary in Polish	275
Summary in English	275

Bartosz Makowicz

Chapter 17. Legal structures against insolvency – compliance approach	277
17.1. Introduction	277
17.2. Definition	278
17.3. Different compliance risks	278
17.3.1. Information privacy	279
17.3.2. Tax compliance	280

17.3.3. Compliance in labour law.	280
17.3.4. Antitrust compliance.	282
17.3.5. Compliance and environmental law / carbon compliance.	282
17.3.6. Corporate compliance.	282
17.4. Compliance system within the enterprise.	283
17.4.1. Legal duty to establish a compliance system.	283
17.4.2. General characteristics of the compliance organization.	284
17.4.3. Implementation of compliance in enterprises.	285
Summary.	287

Adam Wąsikowski

Chapter 18. Franchise system as a way to avoid the risk of bankruptcy of the entrepreneur.	289
18.1. Franchising as a form of conducting business.	289
18.2. The types of franchise systems.	291
18.3. Elements of franchise systems affecting the risk of bankruptcy.	294
18.4. Franchise systems in Poland.	297
18.5. Conclusions.	299
Summary in Polish.	300
Summary in English.	301

Section IV. RESTRUCTURING AND REORGANIZATION PROCESS.	303
--	-----

Piotr Masiukiewicz

Chapter 19. Ideas of changing rehabilitation regulation processes for enterprises.	305
19.1. Introduction.	305
19.2. Theoretical aspects of reorganization of the company.	306
19.3. Models of reorganization proceedings in Europe.	312
19.4. Range and barriers of reorganization proceedings in Poland.	315
19.5. Trends of changes in the regulations.	317
19.6. Proposals of new regulations of reorganization proceedings.	319
19.7. Trends of changes in financial regulations.	320
19.8. Conclusions.	323
Summary in Polish.	324
Summary in English.	324

Wioletta Niebieszczańska

Chapter 20. Recovery and insolvency proceedings in reducing the negative effects of financial crisis.	325
20.1. Introduction.	325
20.2. Financial crisis of an enterprise – causes, symptoms and effects.	325
20.3. Risk of insolvency as a basis of the initiation of recovery proceedings.	332

20.4. The role of bankruptcy proceedings in the event of permanent insolvency of a company	335
20.5. Conclusions	338
Summary in Polish	339
Summary in English	339

Grzegorz Wojtkowiak

Chapter 21. Selected management principles in case of insolvency of an enterprise	341
21.1. Introduction	341
21.2. Identification of insolvency	342
21.3. Purpose of management actions in the event of insolvency and bankruptcy	342
21.4. Selected management principles	348
21.5. The use of knowledge regarding management	352
21.6. Conclusions	354
Summary in Polish	355
Summary in English	356

Monika Kleinrok

Chapter 22. Particularities of distressed mergers and acquisitions	357
22.1. Introduction	357
22.2. The distressed company	359
22.3. The risks and opportunities arising from the acquisition of distressed companies	361
22.4. Analysis of a distressed company – due diligence	366
22.5. Conclusions	370
Summary in Polish	371
Summary in English	371

Paweł Dec

Chapter 23. Restructuring of General Motors – rebirth of the world's leading automotive company	373
23.1. Introduction	373
23.2. History of General Motors	374
23.3. Crisis in General Motors at the beginning of XXI century	375
23.4. Route to bankruptcy of General Motors	377
23.5. The restructuring and rebirth of General Motors	381
23.6. Conclusions	385
Summary in Polish	385
Summary in English	386

Joanna Korpus

Chapter 24. Restructuring process in mergers and acquisitions on example of Zelmer SA	387
24.1. Introduction	387
24.2. The restructuring of a company przedsiębiorstwa – types and forms	388
24.3. Zelmer's development strategy and the scope of restructuring processes	392
24.3.1. Capital restructuring	394
24.3.2. Organizational restructuring and optimization of employment	394
24.3.3. The restructuring of sales processes	396
24.3.4. The restructuring of marketing	397
24.4. The benefits of restructuring Zelmer SA	398
24.5. Conclusions	399
Summary in Polish	400
Summary in English	400

Agata Adamska

Chapter 25. Filing for insolvency as a tool in the battle for corporate control in public companies	401
25.1. Introduction	401
25.2. Forms of public company acquisitions and their impact on the sovereignty of the target company	401
25.3. Defense against hostile takeovers of public companies	404
25.4. Sfinks SA – case study	409
25.5. Conclusions	413
Summary in Polish	414
Summary in English	415

Section V. STAKEHOLDERS IN BANKRUPTCY AND REORGANIZATION PROCESSES

417

Jacek Bartmiński

Chapter 26. Corporate governance and creditor's position	419
26.1. Corporate governance and business governance	419
26.2. Participation of the financing entity in the governance	421
26.3. Controlling function as an element of governance	423
26.4. Restructuring	424
26.5. Change of roles in the governance – corporate governance and governance of the Board of creditors	427
26.6. Control of governing activities	430
26.7. Powers of the members of the Board of creditors	431
26.8. Conclusions	433
Summary in Polish	433
Summary in English	434

Natalia Leszczyńska, Przemysław Wardyn

Chapter 27. Business ethics versus personal liability of management board members in enterprises for failing to file a bankruptcy petition on time.	437
Summary in Polish.	449
Summary in English.	450

Małgorzata Garstka

Chapter 28. Use of the polish code of ethics for professional accountants in case of bankruptcy.	451
28.1. Introduction.	451
28.2. Rules of ethics in accounting.	453
28.3. Extraordinary situations of an entity and the ethics in accounting.	459
28.4. Conclusions.	462
Summary in Polish.	464
Summary in English.	464

Agnieszka Ziomek

Chapter 29. Socio-economic conditions of career adaptation in a process of company bankruptcy.	465
29.1. Introduction.	465
29.2. Models of career adaptation and corporate social responsibility.	467
29.3. The structure and tasks of the career adaptation team.	468
29.4. Determinants of support of the career adaptation in the framework of the career adaptation model.	470
29.5. Conclusions.	474
Summary in Polish.	475
Summary in English.	475

Tomasz Kaczorowski

Chapter 30. Legal framework for the involvement of professional advisors to enhance insolvency proceedings.	477
30.1. Introduction. The need of engaging advisors.	477
30.2. Selection of advisors by the judge-commissioner.	478
30.2.1. Rules of the selection of advisors.	478
30.2.2. Financial aspect.	480
30.3. Selection of advisors by the bankrupt company.	481
30.3.1. Rules of the selection of advisors.	481
30.3.2. Financial aspect.	483
30.4. Selection of advisors by third party.	485
30.4.1. Rules of the selection of advisors.	485
30.4.2. Financial aspect.	486
30.5. Conclusions.	487
Summary in Polish.	489
Summary in English.	489

Ewa Gwardzińska

Chapter 31. Receiver as the trustee and liquidator of the assets of the bankrupt in bankruptcy proceedings in Poland	491
31.1. Procedural mechanism in bankruptcy proceedings.....	491
31.2. Formal and legal requirements of a receiver positions	493
31.3. Responsibilities of the trustee in bankruptcy proceedings	497
31.4. Conclusions	500
Summary in Polish.....	501
Summary in English	501

Włodzimierz Szpringer

Chapter 32. Consumer bankruptcy – key dilemmas of regulation in light of the assessment of the amended bankruptcy and recovery law act	503
32.1. Consumer bankruptcy – definition problems	503
32.2. The institution of consumer bankruptcy in light of interational experience.....	508
32.3. Trends of regulating consumer bankruptcy in Poland in the light of evaluation of the amendment to the law on bankruptcy and reorganization	510
32.4. Conclusions	516
Summary in Polish.....	517
Summary in English	517

Kristyna Chalupecka

Chapter 34. Position of consumer in the insolvency proceeding in the Czech Republic	519
33.1. Consumer in the Czech legal regulations	519
33.2. Insolvency proceeding in the Czech Republic	520
33.3. Concept of debts discharge	522
33.4. Main aspects of consumer's protection in the insolvency proceeding.....	324
33.5. Conclusions	525
Summary	526
Summary in Polish.....	526
BIBLIOGRAPHY.....	527
LIST OF FIGURES AND TABLES	550
INDEX	554