

Contents

1 A Legitimation Crisis of the Capitalist Market Economy?	1
Steffen Schneider and Henning Schmidtke
2 Justifying and Criticizing the Capitalist Market Economy: A Typology of Legitimation Criteria	37
Frank Nullmeier and Dominika Biegoń
3 Legitimation Discourse before and after the Financial Crisis: Contours and Trajectories	61
Henning Schmidtke and Steffen Schneider
4 Making Sense of the Great Recession: Responsibility Attributions in Tough Times	95
Falk Lenke and Henning Schmidtke
5 Metaphorical Anticapitalism: Regulation, Not Transformation	123
Jennifer Gronau
6 Narrative Legitimation: The Capitalist Market Economy as a Success Story	159
Dominika Biegoń

7	(De-)Legitimizing Discourse Networks: Smoke without Fire?	191
	Sebastian Haunss
8	Capitalism's Resilience after the Financial Crisis: A Discursive Explanation	221
	Jennifer Gronau and Sebastian Haunss
	Index	239

List of Figures

Fig. 3.1	Legitimation intensity (number of legitimation statements), 10-year pre-financial crisis and four-year post-crisis average, by country	65
Fig. 3.2	Legitimacy levels (% positive statements), 10-year pre-financial crisis and four-year post-crisis average, by country	67
Fig. 3.3	Legitimation scenarios, country-years	68
Fig. 3.4	Speaker types (%) pre-/post-financial crisis, by country	76
Fig. 3.5	Legitimacy levels (%) pre-/post-financial crisis, by speaker type and country	77
Fig. 3.6	Legitimation object categories (%) pre-/post-financial crisis, by country	82
Fig. 3.7	Legitimacy levels (%) pre-/post-financial crisis, by legitimation object category and country	83
Fig. 3.8	Legitimation criteria groups (%) pre-/post-financial crisis, by country	87
Fig. 3.9	Legitimacy levels (%) pre-/post-financial crisis, by legitimation criteria group and country	88
Fig. 4.1	Grammar of responsibility attributions	101
Fig. 4.2	Types of responsibility attribution, by country	104
Fig. 4.3	Shares of addressees in treatment responsibility attributions	111
Fig. 5.1	Network of connections between metaphors and legitimation criteria, 4-slice	130

Fig. 5.2	Metaphor groups (%) pre-/post-financial crisis ( $n = 457$ )	148
Fig. 6.1	Greimas's actant model	162
Fig. 6.2	Actant structure of the state-as-helper narrative	169
Fig. 6.3	Actant structure of the state-as-opponent narrative	172
Fig. 6.4	Actant structure of the freedom narrative	175
Fig. 7.1	Model of a discourse network	194
Fig. 7.2	Ideal-typical network topographies	195
Fig. 7.3	Discourse networks in the United Kingdom, 1998–2011	199
Fig. 7.4	Discourse networks in Germany, 1998–2011	201
Fig. 7.5	Germany, concept networks pre-/post-financial crisis, 3-slice	204
Fig. 7.6	United Kingdom, concept networks pre-/post-financial crisis, 3-slice	205
Fig. 7.7	Hub centrality values pre-/post-financial crisis	207
Fig. 7.8	Germany, discourse coalitions pre-/post-financial crisis, 2-slice	210
Fig. 7.9	United Kingdom, discourse coalitions pre-/post-financial crisis, 2-slice	213

List of Tables

Table 1.1	Legitimation grammar with examples	19
Table 1.2	Number of pertinent articles and statements, by country and year	21
Table 3.1	Legitimation crisis indicator pre/-post-financial crisis, by country	70
Table 3.2	Severity of legitimation crisis and economic problem pressure, country ranking	71
Table 3.3	Speaker types, coding scheme	75
Table 3.4	Legitimation objects, coding scheme	81
Table 3.5	Legitimation criteria, coding scheme	86
Table 4.1	Responsibility attributions and the potential for institutional change	98
Table 4.2	Summary of empirical findings	116
Table 5.1	Number of legitimation statements (metaphors), by country and time period	126
Table 5.2	Groups of metaphors in anticapitalist discourse	140
Table 6.1	Pro-market discourse, articles by country and time period	161
Table 6.2	Wealth narrative and freedom narrative compared	180